

Greeting Champion!

Blessing and increase, and power and might and dominion to you today in the mighty name of Jesus.

We discovered last week that most people (including me) tend to be focused on what is wrong, and what we can't have, instead of what is right, and what has been promised to us.

Being focused on "what's wrong" then becomes an unprofitable and stubborn habit that has immense creative power for destructive things.

The reason we want to focus on the positive aspects of our life is to tip the balance of our thoughts to what we desire rather than the lack of it.

That's why God told us what we should think about in Philippians 4:8. "Finally children, whatsoever things are true, and honest, and just, and pure, and lovely, and of a good report; if there are any virtuous things, and if there's anything to praise God for, think on these things."

Why do you think God told us what to think about? I'll tell you why. It's because our prevailing thoughts are what get manifested and materialize in our life.

Said another way, "Our meditation becomes our manifestation." What we think about most often will become our experience (Joshua 1:8).

For example, if we are thinking about money, we may think we are just thinking about money. But there are really two ways we can think about money. We either think we have it, so no problem. Or we worry about not having enough, and that is a problem.

Worrying about money is actually worse than having no money. Why is worrying about money a serious problem? Again, it's because our prevailing thoughts are what get manifested in our lives. If we worry about money it guarantees we won't have much of it in the future.

Believing for more for you and me,

Pastor Glen
