

Greetings Champion!

God is making you plenteous in goods (Deuteronomy 28:11) and He has opened for you His bounteous store, His rich storehouse, His sky vaults (Malachi 3:10 from various translations).

I wanted to do something personal and reveal a part of my daily meditation and quiet time with the Lord. I have read the following almost every day for the last year.

I like being here; quieting my mind and thoughts, and receiving divine inspiration, clarity, and wisdom as I create and customize my future for good.

I am here to develop my mental pictures and impress upon God and my subconscious mind who I want to become, what I want to do, and what I want to have. I highly value this time.

- I am a confident, influential, purpose driven man. I know I am pleasing to God and attractive to others.
- I model the blessings of God and life to others, for God.
- I am abounding with energy and strength. I am tireless, motivated, happy, healthy, enthusiastic, joyful, and really moving through life with ease, without resistance, restrictions, frustration, or worry.
- I gracefully move in and out of situations, opportunities, interactions, conversations, and life experiences. I am flowing effortlessly, confidently, comfortably, and happily living in the moment.
- I attract other people and things that are in harmony with my overall life intent, desire, and purpose. And I am clearer and clearer every moment about what it is I want, have and become.
