

Greetings Champion,

The Easter weekend is here, and what a wonderful weekend it is!

Tomorrow is the day we call, "Good Friday." It's Good Friday because it's the day our sins and every other negative thing was lifted off of us and laid on Jesus. He carried, as our substitute, all the negative things in life to give us the positive blessings of God.

That's really what Good Friday and Easter is all about. Jesus took the negative and gave us the positive! Jesus took our small insignificant life and infused His life, character, and nature into us. He gave us life more abundantly. A life of purpose.

Although, generally speaking, Christmas is the most celebrated holiday, Easter is really the most important holiday we celebrate as Christians. That's the day Jesus conquered death, hell, the grave, and Satan. He did it for us! Easter is the day He won for us right standing with God the Father.

What a glorious day!

Just as so many people use the New Year to make their resolutions and believe for positive changes in their lives, I encourage you to use this Sunday to believe God for something new and amazing in your life.

I love you, Happy Easter,

Pastor Glen
