

Greetings Champion!

Blessings and increase and power and might and dominion be yours in the name of Jesus!

It should be obvious to you by now that human beings are all times attracting to themselves that which harmonizes with the thoughts that dominate their minds.

Whatever dominates your mind today will likely be experienced in your life tomorrow.

The greatest generational curse isn't illness or an inclination toward some sin. It is bad paradigms, bad information, a bad belief system passed down from generation to generation that hinders, and even cripples the progress of the new generation.

It is your responsibility to break free from the tentacles of the monster that's trying to hold you in the old thinking that you are undeserving of blessings or you haven't done enough to gain God's favor.

God loves you totally and completely, and thinks wonderful thoughts about you all the time.

Embrace that mindset and thrive this Christmas season.

God loves you so much that He sent Jesus so He can have a relationship with you.

Merry Christmas,

Pastor Glen
