

Greetings Champion!

Strength and wisdom to you, mighty champion!

Feelings are like indicator lights and gauges on the dashboard of your car. They indicate if things are running smoothly or if there is a problem.

If, for example, you feel agitated or discouraged, that feeling should be an indicator and warning to you that you have been thinking incorrectly and are attracting even more agitating and discouraging things into your life.

God exhorts us to, "Let the peace of God keep our hearts and minds through Christ Jesus" (Philippians 4:7).

One translation says, "Let the peace of God act as umpire in your mind." This means that if you detect that you don't have peace, it should be obvious to you that you have been thinking about something you aren't supposed to think about, or you are thinking about something you should be thinking about, but in a fearful or negative way.

Peace increases as you train yourself to think about God and His promises. Peace exits your life when you are thinking incorrectly. Let the peace of God act as umpire, letting you know if you are thinking correctly (Philippians 4:7).

Grace and peace be multiplied to you,

Pastor Glen
